

CAREY DEAN CONLON

Oct 14, 1953 - Jun 8, 2007

Carey D. Conlon was a dedicated husband, father, soldier, coach and friend.

AS A COACH:

Carey set higher standards for himself and for everyone surrounding him. Throughout his life, his work ethic inspired many, but more so in 2004, after he was diagnosed with colon cancer. While undergoing chemotherapy treatments, he continued coaching.

For three years, he withstood numerous chemotherapy treatments, but his true therapy was coaching his son's teams. Coaching brought him joy, strength and stamina but most importantly it provided discipline and courage to his players. His example, once more, set a higher standard .

His dedication to the teams was extraordinary; he continued prepping the fields, serving the board, making the evening calls, making tournament arrangements, supporting the coaching staffs, etc.

CAREY IS THE ULTIMATE HERO TO ALL WHO KNEW HIM.
